

2015/03/20 | Kristina Allen Moy

11 Eggs-cellent Places to Nosh on Easter Brunch

For many Seattle families, going to a restaurant for Easter brunch is as traditional as Easter baskets, chocolate bunnies and plastic eggs. And since many restaurants start taking Easter reservations weeks in advance, we've rounded up 12 spots for you to try – they range from the traditional to the not so traditional, depending on how committed you are to things like deviled eggs, hot cross buns and a ham-carving station. So dress your Peep-loving kiddos in their Easter best and head out for an eggs-cellent holiday meal.

The Restaurant at Alderbrook

Make memories with your kids this Easter while enjoying a one-of-a-kind brunch from The Restaurant at Alderbrook. Their special Easter Brunch menu will feature seasonal salads, fish and traditional fare as well as yummy desserts. The restaurant is known for showcasing local seafood harvested from Puget Sound and the Hood Canal with savory creations like tiny sweet oysters or Dungeness crab cakes so you know Easter brunch is going to be one to remember!

photo: The Restaurant at Alderbrook

Good to know: Easter brunch will be served from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. Advance reservations are recommended by phone. $49/adults; $16/kids (10 & under). If you've got kids, you'll want to time your brunch with the Easter egg hunt that will take place at noon on the cottage lawn for the under five set and along the waterfront for kids ages 5-10. Psst! We hear the Easter Bunny will be making a special appearance too. The egg hunt is open to resort and non-resort guests.

7101 Washington 106

Union, Wa 98592

306-898-5500 (reservations)

Online: alderbrookresort.com/wine-dine